

H
T

YAZARLAR

A vertical grey bar runs down the center of the page, separating the portraits from the text area on the right.

The right side of the page features a series of grey rectangular blocks, likely representing text or image placeholders. The top block contains a red circle with a white minus sign. Below it are several horizontal bars, some with red dots, suggesting a list or a sequence of items.

